

ABS Auto Updating of posts

Posted by Pete - 2010/09/23 09:19

Does ABS have to be running all the time for the articles to be posted.

I checked the Schedule under each post and it seemed to show the same date and time for each RSS post I had..

Can you explain how this works

ALSO

It is not working on my WP site either. have to manually click the post to blog button to get it to upload and post to the blog. It is my understanding that it uploads the full amount of posts it picks up in the rss feeds and then auto set the time on the blog. So once all of the feeds are uploaded you should be able to see them on the blog in the scheduled area

Of which it does not create

=====

Re: ABS Auto Updating of posts

Posted by Pete - 2010/09/24 02:06

bump

=====

Re: ABS Auto Updating of posts

Posted by Carty - 2010/09/24 19:30

That's right. Once you select a bunch of posts and press "Post all items to blog", the posts are immediately sent to your blog and they will automatically be published on future dates. You can close the software right after the posting process is over and still the scheduled posts get published!

Regards,
Carty..

=====

Re: ABS Auto Updating of posts

Posted by Pete - 2010/09/24 22:57

thanks

=====

Re:ABS Auto Updating of posts

Posted by page21 - 2010/09/27 17:17

I think this is relevant to this thread also. I put in my rss feed and got my feed article. I see the article ready to post in the viewing area. I posted it and it worked manually after I clicked update feed. What I don't see is the other 20 articles in the fee. Are they going to post later automatically? How can they post if they are not in the que? Thanks

=====

Re:ABS Auto Updating of posts

Posted by Carty - 2010/09/29 05:26

You probably clicked on one article and pressed post to blog button.

To the left of every article item, there is a checkbox. Select a bunch of posts and press "Post all marked items" button so they get scheduled.

Regards,
Carty..

=====

Re:ABS Auto Updating of posts

Posted by page21 - 2010/09/29 10:36

Thanks that's what I did!

=====

Re:ABS Auto Updating of posts

Posted by Carty - 2010/09/30 06:11

Then the software started to post one by one? You can see the progress in the lower left corner of the software (status window).

Regards,
Carty..

=====