

Creating a New Blog

Posted by suzyq01 - 2010/09/29 04:32

Hello -

I am starting my first blog using ABS. I've completed the new blog page but the "Add Blog" and post schedule are disabled. I was wondering if I've entered the required information correctly. Blogs, cpanels, ftps are all new to me! Here's what I have entered:

Server: ftp.mywebname.com

FTP User name: user@mywebname.com

Password: xxx1xxx1

Images posted: http://www.mywebname.com/blogimages/

I created a folder (blogimages) under public_ftp for my images. There is probably an obvious error somewhere but I'm not seeing it. Any help would be greatly appreciated. Thank you.

Added note: just realized when I tried to restart a new blog that Word Press option has the "Add Blog" enabled - it's just when I choose Blogger that the "Add Blog" is disabled. ? ? ?

You're trying to add a Blogger.com blog or WordPress one?

Once you've entered the user name and password of your Google account, you must press on Click to get blogs button for the blogs to get loaded and select one from the drop down next to the same button. Only then the other fields get enabled.

Thank you. I think I finally figured it out. I didn't realize I had to use blogger.com first to create the blog. I thought it was all encompassed in ABS! Your help is much appreciated!
