

A Few Needed Features

Here's a few thoughts on the Auto Blogging Software Platform

I'd love to see a more feature filled toolbox for editing posts. Things such as bullets, quotes, the ability to change text size, or text type (h1, h2). I would recommend looking at the Wordpress or even Live Writer platforms for ideas.

Also, the history desperately needs to be fixed. For example, if you click CTRL-Z, look out. You may not like what you get. Having a proper history of up to 20 steps would be idea. Also, allow one to reapply a removed changed would be a bonus too.

Just some ideas, great people of software for pulling info, just would like a bit more.

Frank, I will consider improving the editor features like bullets and sorts. But this undo feature is breaking my head for long :) It seems to be a limitation of Microsoft' IE control that I use. I'm thinking about adding a revert to the original articles option button so atleast the changes are reversed completely?

Carty..

That definitely would be better. Right now, if you make a mistake, you have a ton of frustration ahead.
