

Post to Pages Feature?

Posted by stewstuff - 2011/06/15 03:16

Hi Is it possible to autopost to a page instead of a category/post? For example if I want to create some new pages, can I do it through here or is that manual? If not, can you consider that feature for the next update. Thanks, Heather

Yes Heather, this feature will be available when I release an update later this week or early next week.

You cannot make multiple posts onto a single page. If you want a single page displaying all your posts on wordpress, assign these posts to a particular category and link the category page to a menu so you get that page with all posts.

This is done on your blog and not in the software.
