If you have got a same problem like me which is in your posting marked as "Missed Scheduled"..so you have to get this plugin to solve it :

1. Go to this page then register (put a username and email). Check your email inbox!
2. Then Log in again (using a first password, then you will be asked to change it)
3. After change your password, you have to log in again to the wp-admin
4. Then go back to this page and get the plugin code ( copy and paste it on notepad, then save it as .php file then upload it on server in wp-content => plugins directory.
5. Finally, activate the plugin on your wordpress.

If there is something unclear, please don't be hesitate to ask here. We are pleased to help you bro..Gbu!
nb : Nick, please correct me...if something has been missed in the steps above B)

Regards,
Poniman Tjhin :woohoo:

Leave out the old posts that missed schedule. You can click on quick edit and change their status from scheduled to publish. Make more posts and see if they miss the schedule again.

Hi Nick :(

After remove the old post "missed scheduled" then post again...i don't see any future post in my posting (scheduled menu doesn't exist). Could you please help me to fix it.?? If yes, i will give (by email) you my username and password to wp-login to test it (if needed).

One more, my ABS still post for top post (feed) too (only 1 post) and even i leave it for couple hours, there is nothing change (orange to gray)...back to previous problem. FYI, I'm not using onlywire plugin anymore.

Pleasee HELP asap.. :( :( :unsure:

I published an update yesterday were you prompted with it? Once the update is done, create a text file named 'ErrLog' in the install folder (C:\Program Files\CartyStudios Corp\WebMagnates..)

Open the software, make some posts, close it and see if there is anything written by the software on the text file you created. If yes, please email it to me.

Carty..
