

how to post to wordpress without it being schedule

Posted by fermin428 - 2011/09/05 18:00

when I click on the "Post All Marked Items" the post are delivered to wordpress but the aren't published instantly like they used to. It says that they are scheduled. I checked my computer's time and the time on wordpress and ABS and they all match. how can I fix this?

The time might match but your server time should be different. So they get published when the time is reached.

Does the post get published after a while? Did you check again?
