

Google Penalty?

Posted by Demiano - 2012/01/10 21:43

Hi, today I had a very disturbing experience.

I had some 12 posts (fetched by ABS) sitting in my blog as drafts, waiting to be edited and then published. Then I was a few days in a hospital, thinking that the posts would stick there as drafts until I would come back.

When I came back, I realized that the posts had been published and I had a mail in my inbox telling me that the creator of the original content that had been published (with links to the original source but without any additional content) had notified Google and requested to de-index my pages.

Of course I already erased these articles but now I would like to know whether this can lead to a Google Penalty?

Any experiences? Suggestions?

Thanks,
Demian

Hey Demian,

Don't worry at all. This can never lead to penalty :)

FYI, I have seen a couple of high traffic blogs having 100s of posts made with these lines at the bottom.

Regards,
Carty..
