The RSS Feed link is usually listed on their websites. But many people might not have it visible as they don't know about it. If it is a wordpress based blog, you can try accessing their feed link by adding /feed to their domain name. For example, I took your own domain name from the signature link and it was working. Check: <http://www.onlinebusinessbest.com/feed/>

That is exactly what you need to enter into the software.

Carty..
